Useful information

The Abbaye-aux-Hommes welcomes more than 50,000 visitors every year, who come to enjoy the splendour of one of France's most beautiful town halls.

The Church of Saint-Etienne, the former abbey church at the Abbaye-aux-Hommes, is still a functioning church but is now separate from the former monastery. You can visit for free from Monday to Friday from 9 am to 6.30pm, on Saturday from 10am to 6.30pm and Sunday from 2pm to 6.30pm, when the church is not being used for services or religious ceremonies.

Important: these times may be modified by the Parish. Dogs are not allowed in the church, with the exception of guide dogs for the blind.

- Buy your tickets at the Hôtel de Ville (City Hall) entrance hall
- The ticket desk closes half an hour before the rest of the visiting areas
- You can pay by cheque, cash, credit card or holiday vouchers
- There's free Wi-Fi at the Hôtel de Ville
- Please do not tip the staff

Getting to the Abbaye-aux-Hommes in Caen
